Ok, they're almost done with the first leak, then they'll start working on the second leak (i.e., the one at LCP).

Gary could you send your engineer out to the Site either today or early next week to make sure the RCRA cap hasn't been compromised?

Thanks, jon

Latest update – high entertainment value.

I asked Dave Bove to make sure the repair crew was out there. He drove around and couldn't find them. I called American back, apparently they're working on a break somewhere on the NuStar property - so it seems there is more than one break. Or not, who knows?

Anyway, Dave is going to contact them directly to show them the LCP break.

Thanks. I just spoke with Mike Bange who is one of the construction supervisors at American Water. He said a crew was already out there, which I questioned. He's going to call me back when he confirms.

If we get a confirmation that they're out there by noon I think we're good.

Jon, let me know if there is anything that we can do to help. As John noted, I have an experienced person who could be in the field, if needed.

Hi John just to let you know we found a major water leak on the LCP property. I have reported it to the water company and they should be responding to the leak today.

We need this leak repair as soon as possible as it is effecting our plant as we now have no water and it is a safety factor.

I can be reach at [REDACTED]

My name is Dave Bove and I am the site manager for the LPH site.

Thank you

Dave
